

Melbourne Royal Art, Craft & Cookery Competition

2024 Delivery Day Guide

We're excited to receive your entry. We hope these tips will help you navigate delivering your entry in person.

Preparing my entry for delivery

When I complete my entry, I will receive a confirmation email. This email will have an attachment with lots of details for me to read. Included in that document is a set of barcode labels.

These barcodes have unique identifiers on them to help track entries while keeping them anonymous for judging. I know I should have one label for each entry I am exhibiting.

I will keep the larger label as a receipt for collection of my entries after the show.

I will attach the smaller corresponding barcode label/s to my exhibit/s.

- If I have a textile exhibit, I will attach a barcode to the top right-hand corner of my item with a small gold safety pin or tape.
- If I have a cookery exhibit, I will attach the barcode to my food with a toothpick.
- If I have an exhibit from any other category, I will attach the barcode to the bottom right-hand corner of my item with a gold safety pin or tape.

I may also take photos of my exhibit entry to help identify my entries for collection after the show.

Delivery day

Arriving at the showgrounds

To deliver my exhibit/s, I will arrive at the Melbourne Royal Showgrounds on the allocated delivery day/s.

- If I am entering art, photography, craft, junior or open decorated cakes, I will arrive at the venue on Tuesday 10th September between 12pm and 7pm.
- If I am entering cookery or confectionery, I will arrive at the venue on Saturday 21 September between 9am and 12pm.
- If I am entering preserves, I can arrive at the venue on either of the above days.

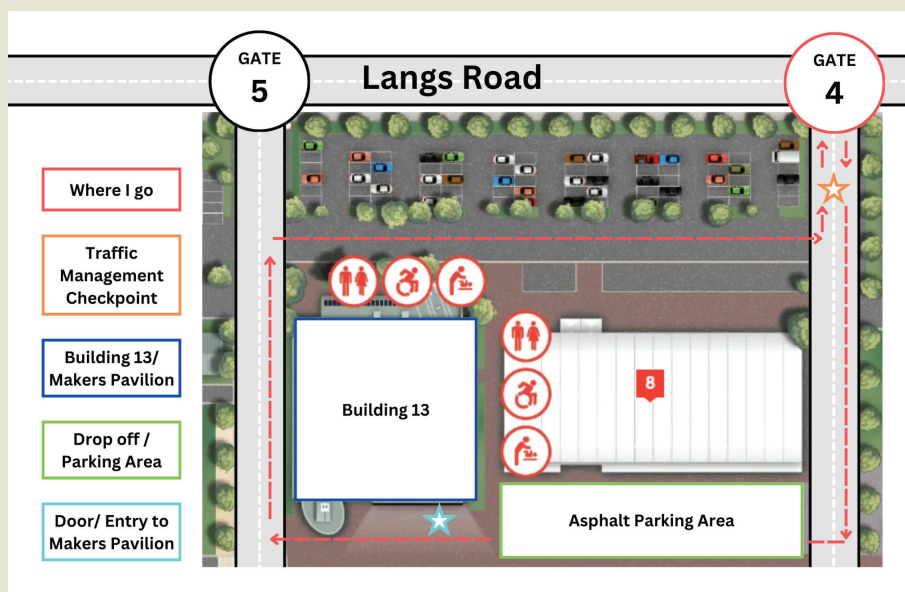

When I arrive at the Melbourne Showgrounds, I will enter from Langs Road, via Gate 4.

Traffic Management will likely greet me after entering the gate, they will be wearing hi-vis clothing.

I will let them know I am there to deliver my Art, Craft & Cookery Entry(s)

I will follow their directions and drive to the allocated asphalt parking area.

If I have children with me

I know that I should try not to bring any children with me on delivery day if I can avoid it.

If I do need to bring children with me, and they cannot be left in my car with someone to supervise them, I know I will need to collect hi-vis vests for them from Traffic Management.

I know that I need to return these vests after I have finished delivering my item to Traffic Management.

After I have parked

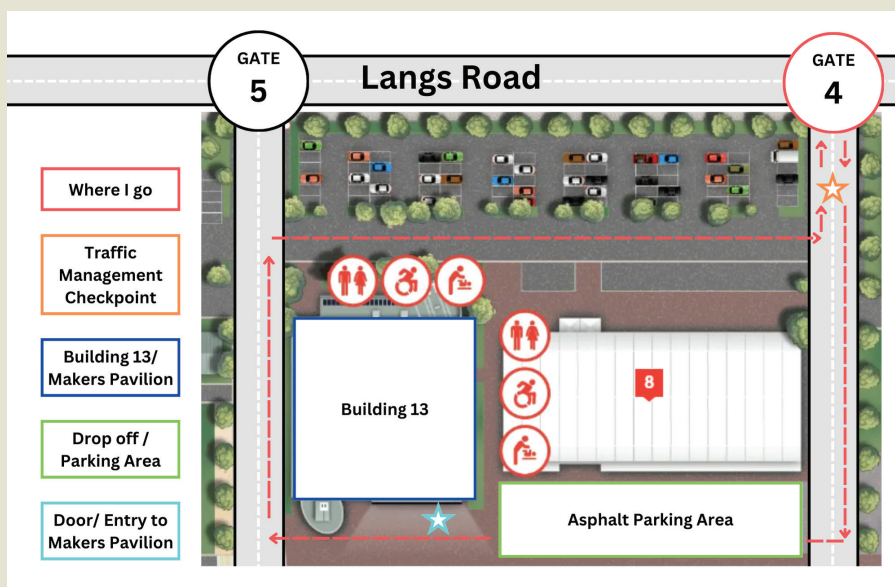

Unless I am entering a decorated cake, I will do any last-minute preparations before I take my entry inside because I know I won't have anywhere inside to make last minute adjustments.

I then take my entries inside the Makers Pavilion (Building 13), following the directional signage.

I will enter the Makers Pavilion and join the back of the queue.

When I get to the front of the queue, a staff member or volunteer steward will greet me and check my barcode is attached to my entry correctly. This same person will scan my barcode/s and I will leave my entry(ies) with this person.

I will then return to my car and continue to drive around the building, exiting the showgrounds through Gate 4.

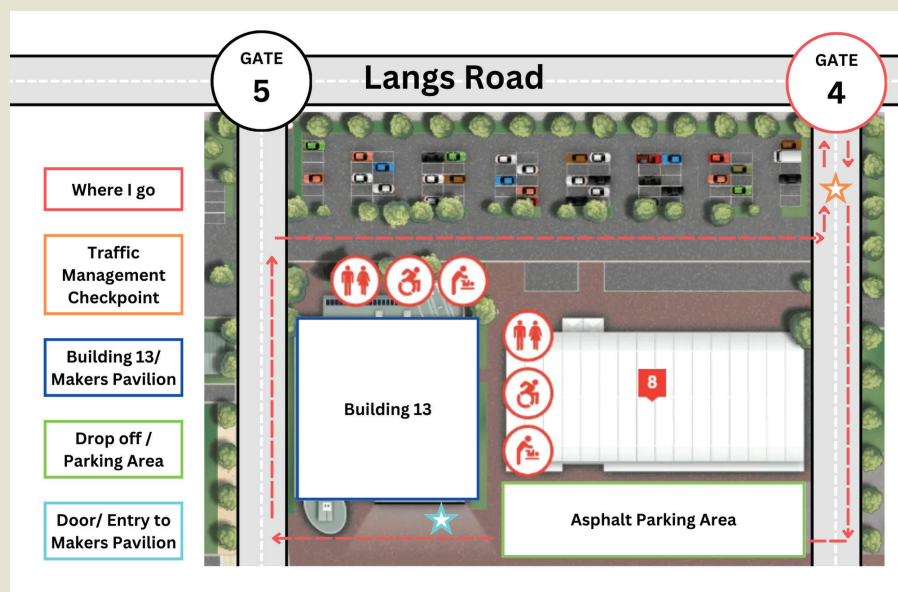

Thank you for entering the Melbourne Royal Art, Craft & Cookery Competition.

We hope you will join us at the Melbourne Royal Show from Thursday 26 September to Sunday 6th October.
